

RESEARCH POSTER TITLE HERE - USUALLY 50 PT, UPPERCASE AND CENTERED

Author N. One¹, Author N. Two², Author N. Three¹

¹Department of Neuroscience, Uniformed Services University, Bethesda, MD

²Walter Reed Army Institute of Research, Silver Spring, MD

Abstract

The abstract for your research poster goes here. A rule of thumb is that your poster should be able to be read in under 10 minutes. By keeping the amount of text down, you will also be able to keep the text size large enough to read comfortably at a distance of about 5 feet.

Introduction

Methods

Results

Fig. 1. Figure Legend can be smaller than the body text. You can use a san-serif font, and use an accent color for a little variety.

Fig. 2. Figure Legends can also go to the side of the figure.

Discussion

Conclusion

Your conclusion goes here. Often authors like to accent certain sections, usually the abstract and conclusion, by using a colored box like this. If you use a box, add a little extra margin so that the text isn't crowded against the edge of the box. Format Text Box > Text Box > Internal Margin

References

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

Acknowledgements

Table 1. Figure Legend can be smaller than the body text. You can use a san-serif font, and use an accent color for a little variety.

East
West
North